About The Council

Dear Friends and Partners,

Since 1965, the East Harlem Council for Human Services, Inc. (the Council) has delivered high-quality, fully bilingual health and human services to East Harlem and surrounding communities. For over 60 years, we have remained steadfastly committed to our neighbors through vital initiatives, including the Boriken Neighborhood Health Center, East Harlem Bilingual Head Start, School-Based Health Programs (at PS 7, PS 112, and PS 155), and the Senior Nutrition Program at Casabe Houses.

While East Harlem is a vibrant community rich in culture, art, and resilience, our families face persistent disparities in healthcare, housing, and social services. Today, despite our impact, critical funding decreases and policy shifts threaten our core programs:

- Boriken Neighborhood Health Center: Serving over 12,400 individuals annually with primary and preventive care, Boriken continues to face reimbursement rates pegged to 1999–2000 levels. As upcoming healthcare shifts lead to Medicaid coverage losses, we will continue caring for every patient who walks through our doors—bearing the unfunded cost ourselves.
- East Harlem Bilingual Head Start: Operating since 1969 and serving more than 200 children and families year-round, this essential program faces a funding shortfall after June 2027 and risks closure without new community backing or identified long-term funding.

To protect these vital services, we must stand together.

We cordially invite you to join us for our Annual Fundraising Gala celebrating 62 years of service. This year's theme, "Unidos Hacia el Futuro; With Purpose, Solidaridad y Comunidad," reflects our firm belief that ending decades of health disparities requires breaking down silos and embracing true collaboration across healthcare providers. By championing the "no wrong door" philosophy, we are working alongside community partners to ensure that whenever an individual crosses our threshold, we get them the care they need and deserve—even if that means guiding them to a partner facility better suited to serve them. This intentional, united effort is what it will take to improve the lives of our collective communities.

Join us for an inspiring evening celebrating our community's resilience and investing in its future. Together, we can build a healthier, more equitable East Harlem.
